Mysteries I-XXIII
Poetry chapbook by Gunilla Theander Kester

Gunilla Theander Kester announces the publication of her second poetry chapbook Mysteries I-XXIII. Composed of questions, reflections and the grief natural to a sudden loss of love and friendship, the collection marks the journey of a broken heart.

The author states, "Mysteries I-XXIII is my tribute to my friend Cantor Susan Alice Wehle who died tragically in the crash of Flight 3407 on February 12, 2009. Susan taught me a lot; without her I wouldn't have survived losing her."

Barbara D. Holender, author of Our Last Best Perfect Day and Ladies of Genesis, writes of Mysteries I-XXIII that they "resonate with nuances; seemingly simple, the poems beg rereading."

Mysteries I-XXIII is available for $12 through the author directly, at the Talking Leaves bookstores, and at www.finishinglinepress.com.
